Meeting ID: 842 1906 3148 | Passcode: 854010

Call In: (669) 900-6833

As of late, a number of unprecedented events, i.e. climate change, COVID-19, and civil unrest, have made an indelible impression on our socio-economic, cultural, and healthcare business practices. Our cities and counties are experiencing global, community and individual shifts in culture and beliefs. County leaders are now faced with the challenge of providing culturally competent services to their diverse communities impacted by these events. Now more than ever, county leadership requires self-study, integrated development and an implementation skill that produces a sense of movement, eases tensions, and establishes true understanding of matters with which even the leaders themselves may be grappling with. This workshop will equip county leaders with the tools required to bridge communities, foster relationships across boundaries, and create consensus amongst diverse groups.

Presenters: Lester Love, MD and Roberta Sanders, BSN, LMSW from Pathways to Wellness - African American Technical Assistance and Training Program located in Alameda County
